May 18, 2018

EULESS, Texas, May 18, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- U.S. Concrete, Inc. (NASDAQ: USCR) ("U.S. Concrete" or the "Company") announced today that its Board of Directors ("Board") appointed William J. Sandbrook Chairman of the Board at the Board meeting immediately following the Company's 2018 annual meeting of stockholders on Thursday, May 17, 2018. Mr. Sandbrook, who currently serves as President and CEO of U.S. Concrete, succeeds Eugene I. Davis, who previously announced he would not seek reelection. Michael Lundin will remain in his position as Lead Independent Director of the Board.

"Bill's strategic vision for U.S. Concrete has resulted in the Company establishing market-leading positions in some of the most active construction markets in the country and continuous year-over-year increases in revenue and pricing growth," said Mr. Lundin. "In addition, throughout his tenure as President and CEO, he has proven adept at driving returns for our stockholders and managing risk accordingly. For these reasons, we are honored to appoint him to this position."

Mr. Sandbrook has served as President and CEO of U.S. Concrete since 2011, during which time he has solidified the Company's balance sheet and significantly expanded its ready-mixed concrete and aggregates capacity. Over the course of his tenure, U.S. Concrete has made a series of strategic acquisitions, which have resulted in the Company being the supplier of choice in non-commoditized concrete offerings for highly specialized projects across all construction verticals in these markets.

Mr. Sandbrook stated, "I am honored to assume the role of Board Chairman and am grateful for the support of the Board and our stockholders. While we have a great foundation in place, our focus will be on continuing to execute our highly differentiated strategic initiatives to further grow our business, our backlog and stockholder returns. I look forward to working with Michael and the rest of the Board to achieve these shared objectives."
